DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

The arrest of Peter Spanos Wednesday on a charge of threatening to destroy property made available for publication the fact that a letter in which a threat to destroy the big plant of the Connecticut Mills company was made, was received in its mail by that concern last Saturday morning.

Local and state officers were immediately called following the receipt of the letter and both the parent plant and the main street plant (formerly the Danielson Cotton company mill) of the Connecticut Mills company have since been closely guarded.

For reasons that may not be given in public, he was immediately taken into custody, but was permitted to depart after his interview with him. The investigation was continued, however, with the result that a warrant for Spanos' arrest was issued Monday. That day he went to Boston for a visit. When he returned here on the 31st train Wednesday morning he was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Ayer, who with other officers has been watching for his return. Spanos Wednesday denied authorship of the threatening letter, which he did when first questioned Saturday.

The letter that has led to Spanos' arrest resembles in tone and general trend a letter that has been issued by Reds in various cities in the United States during the past year and more. This particular letter demands that the Connecticut Mills company make arrangements to operate its plant forthwith and give employment to workers "or it will be destroyed by a bomb with time fuse." And for good measure the writer, who gives assurance that he is a friend, adds in a really chummy way that "we will not stop for the life of the watchman or anybody else."

The letter bore the signature C. I. V. of 23.

That the case will receive the closest attention of officials here was very evident Wednesday, when arrangements were under way to lift the whole matter to the attention of a federal grand jury, which is expected to hold preliminary proceedings as to the letter that has led to the arrest of Spanos. It is pointed out by a local official that no one has started official and others here into activity that does not promise to be anyone who attempts to introduce any of the methods of the Reds into this peaceful section of New England, where the average worker is as horrified at the threat that has been made as persons possibly could be who contemplate its seriousness with any degree of thought.

Some officials here regard the letter as marking the tendency of the times and the belief on the part of some alien workers that they can intimidate Connecticut Mills by doing their worst. It is pointed out to everyone, it was pointed out by a local official here Wednesday, that no one has started official and others here into activity that does not promise to be anyone who attempts to introduce any of the methods of the Reds into this peaceful section of New England, where the average worker is as horrified at the threat that has been made as persons possibly could be who contemplate its seriousness with any degree of thought.

PUTNAM

A new guest for Brooklyn fall was taken down from this city Wednesday in the person of Claude N. Hellett, 31, who claims Cleveland as his home city. Hellett, who was arrested at the railroad station sometime just before midnight Tuesday and then managed, some time after the break and in another part of the city, to get spotted as a vagrant and arrested and locked up by Officer Ernest Chandler. At the time Officer Chandler, who is doing duty in the northern section of the city, arrested Hellett he did not know of the break at the railroad station, but when the prisoners were confronted with having done the job he admitted his guilt and pleaded guilty at Wednesday morning's session of the superior court. His bond was fixed at $1,000, in default of which he was taken to jail to await trial at the criminal term of the superior court opening in Willimantic next month.

Hellett, who was arrested not distant from the plant of Whipple and Gilpatrick, made his entrance to the railroad station through a window in the ticket office from which he had broken out some mass of glass. The ticket office did not seem to appeal to him as the place for a clean-up, for he climbed out on it through a transom and on to the top of a telephone station booth in the waiting room and then made his way to the top of the building, where he was seen from a distance through a window in the ticket office from which he had broken out some mass of glass. 80 Years Old - Was Sick - Now Feels Young After Taking Eaton's for Sour Stomach

"I had sour stomach ever since I had the grip and it bothered me badly. Have taken Eaton's only a week and am much better. Am 80 years old," says Mrs. John Hill.

Eaton's quickly relieves sour stomach, indigestion, heartburn, bloating and distress after eating because it takes up and carries out the excess acidity and gases which cause most stomach ailments. If you have "tried everything" and still suffer, do not give up hope. Eaton's has brought relief to tens of thousands like you. A big box costs but a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.

Tells Weak, Nervous People What to Eat to Grow Vigorous

Doctors Agree That Present Day Foods Do Not Supply Enough Phosphate—A Vital Necessary Element.

Bitro-Phosphate a Common Organic Phosphate Is What Nerve Sick Tired Out Thin People Need.

If nervous people would eat more old-fashioned oatmeal, Graham bread, dried beans and peas, the yolk of an egg, and even the despised circus peanut, they would be helped wonderfully. These are rich in phosphate, and so are lentils and unpolished rice.

It is because these particular foods are rich in phosphate, and so most people know, is a vital element of not only the body, but of every other cell in the body.

There isn't enough organic phosphate in modern prepared foods to do over 10 percent of the work and women of America are suffering for it.

That is why so many people of today are nerve sick, weak, run-down, have no ambition and in many cases are simply "sick and bored."

In order to supply this deficiency of phosphate, physicians in New York are prescribing organic phosphate, which feeds the starving nerves just what they need.

The most popular organic phosphate and one that every druggist dispenses is known as Bitro-Phosphate and comes in tablet form all ready for use.

A few grains taken with meals supply the organic phosphate that most foods lack, and if taken regularly, say ten grains with each meal, ought to have a wonderfully uplifting effect in a few weeks on people who are weak, become easily fatigued, or are growing old and discouraged before their time.

Speaking of people who are easily fatigued, who lack ambition, nerve force and are exhausted and in many cases lacking in firm healthy flesh, Joseph H. Harrigan, formerly visiting specialist, Northwestern University, has some time ago recorded his visits, especially in Philadelphia, to the famous Dr. Frederick Kott, author of medical test books and editor-in-chief of N. Y. Physicians' "Who's Who," is to make this statement:

"Bitro-Phosphate should be prescribed by every doctor and used by every healthy man and woman to increase strength and nerve force and to enrich the blood."

Any man or woman who desires to become more vigorous and energetic; to build up nerve force and endurance; to fill out undeveloped features and renew old-time animation can procure this simple remedy at Lee & Osmond's, or any druggist.

People who desire more will power, a brain, alert mind and sturdy body are using Bitro-Phosphate with great success today with splendid results.
